Approved For Release 2000 2: SECRET 5A0000000390001-5 Ed Sect.

	12 August 1951
		25X
	Copy No. € /- 9
		•
	CURRENT INTELLIGENCE BULLETIN
	42
	DOCUMENT NO
	CLASS, CHANGED TO: TS S COOS
	AUTH: HR 70-2 DAT . 2 22 REVIEWER:	25X1
		25X1
• .
	Office of Current Intelligence
	CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE BULLETIN
		25%
		17

Army and State Department review(s) completed.

TOP SECRET

Approved For	Release 2003/10/22 : CIA-RDP79T00975A0003003	90001-5
, ippiored i o	100000 2000/10/22 : 0//(1001/00/00/00/00/00/00/00/00/00/00/00/00	,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,, 25X1A
	SUMMARY
	•

	*:	GENERAL
	1.	General Eisenhower would serve as "European Defense Minister" to speed integration (page 3).	:
			2
, te
	5.	Ceylon's government fears internal repercussions over rupper shipments to China (page 6).
		NEAR EAST
	ß	Arab states continue intrigue against integrity of Jordan (page 6).
	0.	Alab states continue untilguo usumse savoga so, sa e e e e	. 2
•
	ery er Till s	WESTERN EUROPE
	9,	French pose condition to acceptance of Greece and Turkey in NATO
4. A	10.	(page 8).
1А Г		* * * *	1
		- 2 -	1
		25X1A

25X1

GENERAL

2	5	V	1	٨
_	:	Λ	- 1	-

1. General Eisenhower would serve as "European Defense Minister" to speed integration:

US Minister Julius Holmes in London reports a conversation with General Eisenhower as follows:

25X1A

"He said that no time should be lost in concluding arrangements which would allow a start on German forces. He felt that the European army presented the only feasible means of bringing them into Western defense. He believes that the greatest element of delay will be the agreements and arrangements necessary for a European Defense Minister to function. He is prepared, if he can get satisfactory commitments from the five governments involved, principally France and Germany, to undertake on a temporary basis the functions of European Defense Minister in order to get the practical businesss of the recruiting, training and formation of the force started.

"He made it clear that he would do this on a personal basis and not as Supreme Allied Commander Europe and that it would naturally have to be for a limited period."

Comment: The concept of a "European Defense Minister," member of no government, arose during the Paris talks on creation of a European army.

25X1A

 : 	,	*

- 3 -

25X1A

IV and other assistance.

	25X1A 5,	Ceylon's government fears internal repercussions over rubber shipments to China:
5X1		The Prime Minister of Ceylon has told US Embassy officials that his United National Party, which controls the present government, cannot risk "political suicide" by preventing shipments of rubber from Ceylon to China. He has stated repeatedly that increasingly successful Communist efforts to develop trade in rubber with Ceylon are unfortunate, but nothing now can be done about it. The implication is that Ceylon will not certify under the Kem amendment no request that an exception be made in its case, despite the fore-knowledge that this failure might prejudice the granting of Point

Comment: There is a possibility that the United National Party would lose control of the government if it reversed its widely publicized policy of permitting rubber exports to all destinations. There is also a possibility, however, that by conveying the impression that they cannot reverse this stand, the Ceylonese are hoping to obtain a US contract for a large part of Ceylon's annual rubber output.

NEAR EAST

25X1A

6. Arab states continue intrigue against integrity of Jordan:

The Iraqi Minister is flagrantly continuing the campaign for a union of Jordan and Iraq which was renewed by the Iraqi Prime Minister and the Regent at the time of Abdullah's funeral. It is widely rumored that the Egyptian Legation is agitating for the independence of the western part of Jordan (formerly Arab Palestine) under a mandate of the Arab League. The Saudi Arabian Legation is believed to favor partitioning the country in cooperation with Syria.

25X1A

25X1A

The US Minister feels that although there is no evidence of Jordanian acceptance of these maneuvers, they cannot but disturb the internal political situation and the precarious equilibrium that has existed in the Near East since 1948.

	Comment:	25
(1:	The desires of Iraq in this matter	_
•	are well known. Egypt, which continues to be interested in the Arab Palestine Government of the former Mufti would presumably wish to create an independent Arab Palestine.
	The possible role of Ibn Saud is less clear. Recently, he stated in a note to the US Government that "any	25X
NEV/4	attempt to change the present situation in the Middle East will not
25X1	be agreeable to him" and that it is "unjust" to deprive Abdullah's sons of their rights.

WESTERN EUROPE 25X1A 9. French pose condition to acceptance of Greece and Turkey in NATO: France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group. The French reject the idea of a separate and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.		Approved For Re	elease 2003/10	0/22 : CIA-RDP79T009	9 75A0003003900	01-5
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
France will oppose full NATO membership for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.	25X1A 9.	French pose cone	dition to acc	eptance of Greec	e and Turkey	in NATO:	-
for Greece and Turkey unless they are directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.				France will oppor	se full NATO	membership directly subordinated to the three-power NATO Standing Group, The French reject the idea of a separate command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.				directly subordin	ated to the thr		_ command body composed of the present Standing Group members and Turkey. The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.
The US Nato Deputy suspects that the French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.			mposea or	the present Stand	ing Group me	mbers
French have long wanted to extend the Standing Group's authority beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe.	-	and funcy.					•
beyond the NATO area. In his view, the French fear that a further diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe. - 8 -		•	!	The US Nato Depu	ity suspects th	hat the diminution of France's authority within the Standing Group would relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe. - 8 - relegate France to a minor European role while UK and US interests would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe. would be predominant in the Middle Eastern theater as well as in Europe. - 8 - Europe. - 8 -
-8-			mant in the	Middle Eastern d	neater as wer	I do III
	•	war opos
					·
25X1A				- 8 -	1 - 1
25X1A
		2	5X1A	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
		Γ.
		the state of the s			Ī

25X1A

Comment: France has consistently pushed the alternate idea of a regional Mediterranean pact embracing Greece and Turkey. The French have been reluctant to include Greece and Turkey in NATO, partly because they felt that growing Western European integration would be hindered, but even more because they have been increasingly jealous of American and British influence in the Eastern Mediterranean.

The three-power Standing Group is the executive arm of the NATO military committee, and as such has direct control of all NATO forces. The French fear that any change which detracted from the authority of the Standing Group might prejudice their efforts to obtain a greater voice in Eastern Mediterranean matters.

	25X1A	Need for Berlin airlift appears to have been exaggerated:
25X1/		In a sharply worded letter to Mayor Reuter, the Allied Commandants protest that, although they acceded to West Berlin's appeal for aircraft to move goods held up by new Soviet export restrictions, it now appears that the volume of the backlogged shipments has been overestimated and the need for an airlift exaggerated.

The airlift has been arranged on the basis of information that 10,000 to 12,000 tons of goods were backlogged. However, in a 3 August meeting between Allied and West Berlin authorities to consider expanding the airlift capacity, it developed that the West Berlin Senate was having difficulty finding sufficient backlogged cargo to fill the limited number of aircraft being used, and that in fact only 300 tons were available for loading within the next three days.

25X1A